Technology, Pedagogy and Education

Special Issue: The Semantic Web in Education
Guest Editors: Patrick Carmichael and Katy Jordan

Contents

Introduction
Semantic web technologies for education – time for a ‘turn to practice’?
Patrick Carmichael and Katy Jordan 153

Articles
Students as designers of semantic web applications
Fran Tracy and Katy Jordan 171

Dancing with the Web: students bring meaning to the semantic web
Pauline Brooks 189

Virtual Field Sites: losses and gains in authenticity with semantic technologies
Kate Litherland and Tim A. Stott 213

Enabling creative learning design through semantic technologies
Patricia Charlton, George Magoulas and Diana Laurillard 231

Finding and reusing learning materials with multimedia similarity search and social networks
Suzanne Little, Rebecca Ferguson and Stefan Rüger 255

Supporting student research with semantic technologies and digital archives
Agustina Martinez-Garcia and Louise Corti 273