CONTENTS

Introduction
Digital literacies as placed resources in the globalised periphery
Mastin Prinsloo and Jennifer Rowsell 271

Articles
Using mobile phones as placed resources for literacy learning in a remote Indigenous community in Australia
Glenn Auld, Ilana Snyder and Michael Henderson 279

ICTs as placed resources in a rural Kenyan secondary school journalism club
Maureen Kendrick, Walter Chemjor and Margaret Early 297

Digital identities, student investments and eGranary as a placed resource
Bonny Norton and Carrie-Jane Williams 315

New literacies as multiply placed practices: expanding perspectives on young people’s literacies across home and school
Scott Bulfin and Dimitris Koutsogiannis 331

‘Grand Theft South Africa’: games, literacy and inequality in consumer childhoods
Marion Walton and Nicola Pallitt 347

Hollywood in Uganda: local appropriation of trans-national English-language movies
Stella Achen and George Ladaah Openjuru 363

Literacy, place and the digital world
Bill Green 377